THOUSANDS PLAN TO ATTEND DEMOCRATIC PICNIC ON SEPT. 9

Political activities of the Democratic party in Lake County will be launched formally at the big Democratic picnic and outing to be held at Sportsman Park on Sunday, September 9. Fifteen thousand tickets have been mailed to Democrats in Lake County and promoters are confident that the attendance will not fall under that number.

Belief prevails among Democratic leaders of the party that Governor Horner and other state leaders of the party will be present inasmuch as an intensive drive is to be made at the fall election to break down the defenses of the old guard organization.

Among the state leaders already invited are Gov. Horner, Michael L. Igoe, David B. Moloney, candidate for congress from the Tenth district; General Roy D. Keene, Martin Brennan, candidate for congress; John Stett, candidate for state treasurer; Sidney Stein, John O'Keefe and Charles Goodwin.

The picnic will be an all day affair, opening at 9 A. M. Athletic contests will be held in the morning with a program of speeches in the afternoon. There will be band music at intervals during the day with dancing in the evening. All Democratic candidates in the county will be on hand and will be introduced.

VOLIVA SEES SPLIT OF OPPOSITION IN ZION MAYORAL RACE

That Conrad Brune of Zion, former chief of police, later head of Col. A. V. Smith's sponge squad, and now constable, will be a candidate for mayor of Zion is the admission he has made to his friends. Brune, like many other former executives in Zion, failed to agree with Voliva in many of his policies and thereby got in the bad graces of the Zion overseer with the result that he was ousted. In launching his campaign early he figures he will have plenty of time to make a plea for support on the part of those opposed to Voliva.

Eric Carey, young attorney in Zion and former member of the Voliva faction, also is mentioned as a possible candidate for mayor, and it is said he also will seek support from the independents and members of the anti-Voliva faction.

With two independent candidates in the field it is said that Voliva figures the opposition will be split and that he will have a better opportunity of electing his own candidate.

Cedar Lake Day Is Planned by Park Group

Cedar Lake Day will be observed Sunday, Sept. 2, according to announcement made by the Cedar Lake Park Association under whose auspices the events of the day will be held.

As entertainment features there will be dancing, races, games, horse-shoe and ball throwing contests, pig-catching contest, and a "shorts" parade. There will be prizes for all of the events which are to start at 2:30 o'clock and closing with a tug of war at 9:00 o'clock. Knut Hansen will direct a chorus of 50 male voices in a song festival at eight o'clock.

Admission is free and free parking space will be provided.

Charles Anderson Wins Bicycle in Magazine Contest

Charles Leroy Anderson, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Anderson, Antioch, was among the winners in a magazine selling contest recently conducted. Charles will be awarded a new $45 bicycle which he will receive next week, and is entitled to a trip through Michigan.

He plans to leave Friday with his employer, Mr. Buller of Evanston, for Benton Harbor, Mich., via the boat Roosevelt. With thirty-two other boys he will enjoy a tour of Michigan on a bus. Charles is grateful to all who have subscribed to the Saturday Evening Post or Ladies' Home Journal, thus making possible his trip.

St. Paul Chief Gets Van Meter

A notable achievement in his first few weeks in office goes to the credit of Police Chief Frank Cullen of St. Paul, above, recently promoted from detective lieutenant. Cullen led the squad that shot down Homer Van Meter, Dillinger aide, in a St. Paul alley. He then launched an intensive campaign to round up "Baby Face" Nelson, also believed to be in St. Paul.

RECEIVE FEDERAL CHECK ON ANTIOCH WATERWORKS PROJ.

A check for $1,864.76 was received Tuesday by Village Clerk R. L. Murrie, from the United States government, covering the first requisition for the Antioch Waterworks project completed in April.

The maximum grant made by the federal government was for $3,000. As the second requisition for the balance has been approved at Washington, there is little doubt that a check for the remainder soon will be forthcoming, Mr. Murrie said.

TAXPAYERS LEAGUE SUPPORTS MOVE FOR MONETARY REFORM

The national Taxpayers League is giving full support to the American Monetary Reform Association, and Lake county members of the League are planning to attend the conference on money reform being held today and tomorrow at Hotel LaSalle, Chicago.

The Association that is interesting itself in monetary reform has headquarters in Flint, Michigan. The present conference is for the purpose of considering policies to be advocated in the future regarding money, bonds, banks, the federal reserve system, and the postal savings bank.

"Something of real substantial value must be done in the way of providing a more equitable and more adequate money system in the country if economic disaster is to be averted," says an announcement from the Taxpayers League, signed by Severin J. Hanson, president, and Willis Overholzer, secretary. The organization is giving full support to the monetary conference, the men said.

Hydrant Wreckers Finish Repair Work

Gerald Starr and Frank MacInch, Chicago, were feeling lighthearted this week, when they found that their fine for wrecking the fire hydrant at the intersection of Main and Lake streets, Antioch, last Thursday, had been remitted.

The entire episode cost them only $17.85, it was learned yesterday, after final disposal of the case was made by Police Magistrate J. C. James. Repair work was done by the men themselves, with the aid of a machinist friend. Floyd Starr, a Chicago garage owner, last week was required to deposit one hundred dollars cash with Magistrate James to insure cost of repairing the hydrant, which was returned, minus cost of repair.

Mrs. Lester Nelson was hostess to the club yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Leonard Case, Mrs. Hugh Hufendick and Mrs. Henry Reinke winning the prizes.

OVER 5,000 ATTEND FARMER'S PICNIC

4-H Club Exhibits and Judging Prove Center of Interest

A crowd of over 5,000 braved the cold weather Tuesday to attend the Lake county farmers' picnic and 4-H club round-up held at Henchan's Park, Round Lake.

Much interest was displayed in the judging and display of the 4-H Club exhibits, which proved varied and worthwhile. A large crowd participated in the old-time barn dancing to Tom Owen's radio orchestra during the evening. During the afternoon sports and carnival amusements were enjoyed.

Boys' exhibits included calves, hogs, sheep, and garden produce; girls' entries included foods displays, home-made dresses, garments and other handiwork.

The picnic was given by the Lake County farm bureau, Home Bureau, and Pure Milk Association.

Local Boys Win Prizes
A number of Antioch high school boys exhibited livestock, with Homer White, Ray Hills and Howard Bonner taking ribbons.

A partial list of prize winners in the principal competitions follows:

Miss Edna Flood was voted "style queen" of the outing. Her gown brought loud applause from the farm audience. The queen lives in Gurnee.
Stock judging winners: Mitchell Kane, Diamond Lake, was awarded the Pure Milk Association special prize; Homer White, Antioch, was awarded the Holstein Breeders' special prize.

Robert Wells, Lake Villa, won the prize for Brown Swiss calves; Floyd Olson, Gurnee, won the Jersey award; and Earl Cain, Diamond Lake, took the Guernsey senior yearling judging award.

Ray Hills, Antioch, won the Brown Swiss yearling prize; Michael Kane, Diamond Lake, the Guernsey junior yearling competition; Palmer White, the Holstein heifer calves competition; Milton Bauman, Lake Villa, Guernsey cows, 2-year-olds; Roger Kane, Diamond Lake, Holstein heifer calves, senior class, and Palmer White, Holstein yearlings.

Howard Bonner, Lake Villa, won the prize for judging 2-year-old cows; while Herbert Fleyers, Lake Zurich, won the sheep judging contest; John Cunningham, Gurnee, was declared the best judge of pigs, while Kenneth Cunningham, Gurnee, won the poultry judging contest.

Results of baseball games played during the day were:
Ward's Colts won from Keller's Majors, 7 to 6. Lake County farm bureau team beat the DeKalb county farm bureau team, 7 to 3. The Elgin girls won from the Warren girls' team, 5 to 0.

P.W.A. Grants $1,400 For Sewer Project

Covers 30 per cent of Cost; Spafford and Harden Streets Benefit

The grant of $1,400 for the Antioch sewer project on Spafford and Harden streets was made this week, according to a letter received by Mayor George B. Barlett from Senator James Hamilton Lewis in which Lewis stated that the Federal Public Works Administration had advised him of the grant.

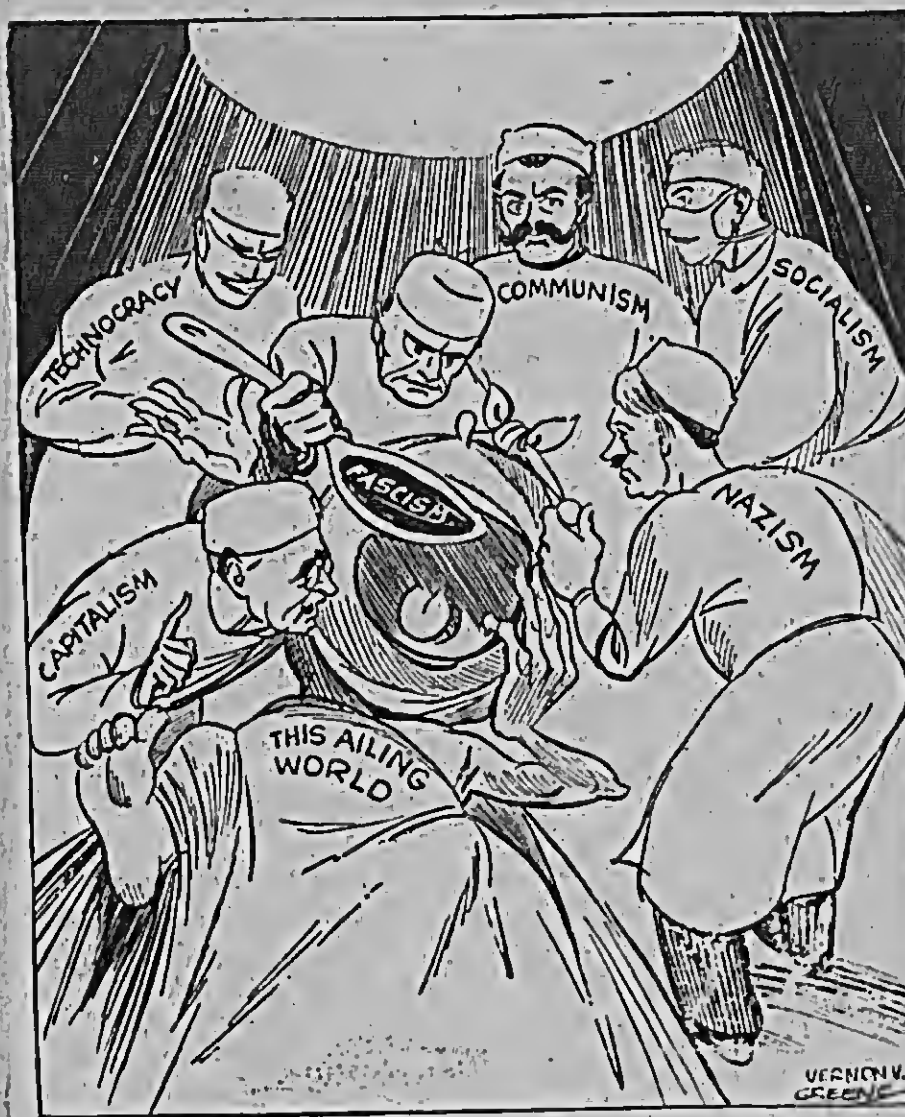

The amount will cover thirty per cent of the cost of the project, which is a special assessment job. The remaining seventy per cent will be paid by the property owners.

The project will provide for a continuation of the sewer on Spafford street. It is expected that the work will get under way this fall.

205 REGISTER AT ANTIOCH HIGH SCHOOL

Sixty-five Freshmen Enroll; Senior Class Smaller Than Last Year

Enrollment at the Antioch Township High School Monday and Tuesday totaled 205, according to Principal L. O. Bright. The total enrollment last year reached 265, and it is expected that when all late registrations are recorded, this year's total will nearly approximate that number. Classes will start Tuesday, Sept. 4, at 8 o'clock.

A class of 65 freshmen registered Tuesday afternoon; within the next week this number will probably be swelled to 75. The senior class of 47 this year is considerably smaller than last year's graduating class of 66, which was the largest graduated in the history of the school.

Dalgaard Accident Case Comes Up Wed.

Armand Dalgaard, 17, Antioch, was released on $1,000 bond Tuesday from Waukegan, where he was taken in custody on a charge of reckless driving, following an accident in which James Haake, 12-year-old son of Rudolph Haake, office manager for the Rykssel Coal Co., Waukegan, was seriously injured.

Young Dalgaard was driving east on Grand Avenue, and had just reached the city limits when the accident occurred. Intending to pass young Haake and his companion, Donald Brethfield, who also were headed east, he sounded his horn. Brethfield moved over, but Haake paused to look around, witnesses said.

The collision occurred as Dalgaard attempted to avoid hitting a Waukegan City Water truck with trailer which swung onto Grand Avenue from the north just as Dalgaard was passing the bicyclist.

According to reports from the Victory Memorial hospital, Haake is suffering from a skull fracture.

NATIONAL BANK INSURES DEPOSITS UP TO $5,000.00

Receives Window Signs from Federal Insurance Corporation

The First National Bank of Antioch today received from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation at Washington the official signs which will hang at all receiving windows as visible evidence that the depositors of this institution are insured.

The First National Bank of Antioch is one of more than 14,000 licensed banks in the country which are receiving these signs. Insured banks are able to offer protection to their depositors up to $5,000. Statistical studies have shown that this maximum fully protects more than 97 per cent of all the depositors in insured banks.

The purpose of the signs is to let depositors know which banks are insured. Heretofore, although 90 per cent of the licensed banks are insured, depositors have had no means of identifying them.

Firemen Called to Lake Grass Fire

A grass fire on the Hurley and Jurgensen property, Loon Lake, which was endangering adjacent cottages, was extinguished by members of the Antioch Volunteer Fire department about 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

LAKE COUNTY CREW TO STAGE "WRECK" AT LEGION MEET

Annual Convention at Peoria to Last 4 Days; Starts Saturday

Lake county Legionnaires will figure prominently in the State Legion Convention at Peoria Saturday night when the local vulture wrecking crew will be in charge of a "wreck" or imitation at the Peoria armory.

A program for the state meet that promises to keep visitors busy for four days and one that will appeal to a wide variety of tastes has been arranged for the thousands planning to attend the annual convention of the Legion, Auxiliary, Forty and Eight and Eight and Forty, September 1, 2, 3, and 4.

"We have left nothing undone toward making this the best convention that the Illinois department ever has had," said Frank A. Stewart, general chairman, "and we are certain that visitors will not regret their visit to Peoria."

Many Lake county Legionnaires and members of the Auxiliary are planning to attend many of the sessions.

GILKERSON APPOINTED LOCAL AGENT FOR FARM CREDIT GROUP

Harry Gilkerson, of Grayslake, has been designated local correspondent for the Woodstock Production Credit Association to handle inquiries and applications for short-term production credit loans in Lake County, according to word received from R. T. Burroughs, secretary-treasurer of the Woodstock Production Credit Association, at Woodstock.

"It is the desire of the association to make its services available to all the farmers in its territory," said Mr. Burroughs, in pointing out that Mr. Gilkerson's appointment will save Lake county farmers the necessity of writing or traveling to Woodstock to make applications for loans.

"Last spring the majority of the applications were for funds to finance the production of crops, but now applications are being received from farmers with feed who desire to purchase feeder cattle or lambs and from farmers with feeder livestock on hand who desire to purchase feed," Mr. Gilkerson said. "Providing his loan is approved in advance, a farmer may obtain a commitment for the purchase at a terminal market of the number and kind of cattle agreed upon in his application. In this manner it is possible for a livestock feeder to obtain a loan for the purchase of cattle before he actually has the livestock in his possession."

The Woodstock Production Credit Association was organized in accordance with an Act of Congress. Loans are for general agricultural production purposes and bear 5 per cent interest per year. The term coincides with the marketing period of the crop or livestock financed.

Mr. Gilkerson states that since interest is charged only for the time the money is actually outstanding, many farmers have reduced their interest costs by obtaining loans on a budget basis according to their needs at definite times.

Gunmen Loot Tavern Near Trevor of $20

The Stop Inn Tavern near Trevor was held up by two armed men at 8 o'clock Monday afternoon and robbed of $20 in cash. The bandits succeeded in intimidating the bartender and customers, collected their loot, and then escaped in the car kept running out of the tavern.

The bartender immediately called the sheriff's office and reported the hold-up.

Mrs. Ray Smith, Bob Smith and Ray King spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Dwight, Ill.

PROFITLESS PROSPERITY

Here are some facts for everybody to consider because they underlie the future earning power, and employment foundation of the United States:

Marshall Field & Co., Chicago, second largest store in the world, sold $45,000,000 worth of drygoods and commodities in the first six months of 1934. That was a $10,000,000 increase over the first half of 1933. But it lost nearly $2,000,000 on the turnover. The president of the company told his stockholders: "Our sales failed to increase to the extent necessary to cover the increased burden put on us by NRA and other national and local government agencies. During the second quarter our payroll was $1,083,000 more than a year ago and our taxes were $626,000 more."

Consolidated Gas Company of New York, one of the outstanding public utilities in the world, had gross revenues of $53,000,000 for the second quarter, practically the same as for a year ago. But profits per share of common stock dropped from 83 cents to 41 cents. The drop was caused wholly by the rise in the cost of doing business. For the first half of this year taxes and operating expenses were up 10.9 per cent from last year. For the June quarter they were up 14.4 per cent.

General Motors' quarterly report showed its three months' sales at $303,000,000, an increase of no less than $100,000,000 but wages and materials jumped even faster so that its three months' profit was actually $1,000,000 less than the same period in 1933.

Along with talk about new ways of taxing industry, soaking the investor and cutting the rates of public service companies and railroads, it is well to bear in mind that the rank and file of United States citizens depend upon them to make earnings on savings which they have invested in them.

We simply cut our own throat when we cut the throat of industry with destructive legislation and taxation, and destroy its lifeblood of earnings.

GOVERNMENT IN QUANDARY

"Man proposes—God disposes," says the old proverb. It proves a fact that has the Department of Agriculture and high government officials giddy and dismayed.

Main Administration program for the farmer has been crop and acreage reduction. Working on the theory that unless drastic action were taken, the American market would be glutted with agricultural surpluses for many years to come, thus keeping prices at bankrupt levels, steps were taken to kill pigs, plow under wheat and cotton, and otherwise attempt to adjust demand and supply. The government paid out checks totaling millions to farmers in order to recompense them for crops thus destroyed.

Everything went along well—until the power of God appeared, in the form of the worst drought in generations. The wheat and cotton crops of whole states were literally burned to dust. Cattle died of thirst and starvation—high winds whirled away seed and topsoil, making a desert of what had been the finest and richest farm land in the country.

Outside of the afflicted areas, the American people had little idea of what the result of this would be. They read the headlines, felt pity for the farmers whose year's income had vanished, agreed that the Government should administer relief. What they did not realize was that the drought, following upon the man-made campaign to destroy produce, had turned the crop surplus into a crop deficit. And that means but one thing: Soaring food prices to the consumer. Private crop experts say that it will take five or six years to make up for the crops we have lost. Every one of these experts is of the belief that during the coming winter food prices will be higher than for many years past—and that, coming at a time when the national income is still heavily depressed and millions of families are earning just enough to get by on, contains the fruits of potential tragedy.

President Roosevelt, Secretary Wallace and others have said that all the power of government will be used to prevent profiteering, that the consumer will be protected. But no law exists which can keep farmers from hanging onto what crops they have left in the hope of higher prices—no power has yet been called into play that can prevent speculation all along the line, from the farm to the grocery store.

Washington is worried and uncertain—and in the meantime the Government is in the odd position of forcing crop reduction on one hand, while administering relief to crop sufferers on the other!

A PRACTICAL WAY TO CREATE EMPLOYMENT

A large number of prominent industrialists, along with an army of public officials and economists, are of the opinion that stimulated residential construction offers the best chance of accelerating the pace of recovery.

Construction is a local industry. The money that is spent goes first to local people—to workers, contractors, building supply houses. Every business in the community is benefitted, from the corner grocery to the electric utility. Every pocketbook feels the fattening effect of construction dollars.

The great drive to boom construction is getting underway now. Private capital that has been tied up in non-productive channels is going to work. A vast need for housing exists, in both urban and rural localities—there has never been so great a potential demand for better and more modern homes.

So far as the individual citizen is concerned, he is now being offered an unprecedented opportunity to build on extremely favorable terms. Almost all the costs involved—from paint to interest charges—are well under previous levels. It is the part of wisdom to make the fullest possible use of that opportunity.

POLITICS COLORS FACTS

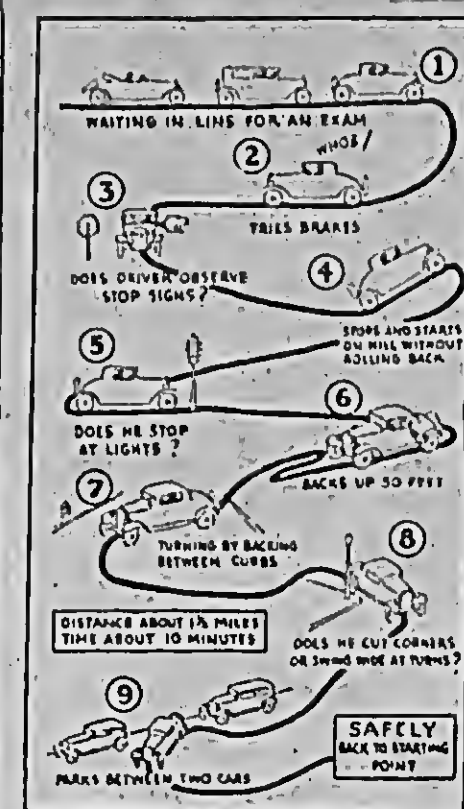

The hand of politics, not too well veiled, is beginning to appear in many supposedly dispassionate surveys of the business situation. It is an ancient axiom that any smart statistician can produce figures that will prove almost anything—it is equally axiomatic that you can color the true facts concerning business by either overstatement or understatement without actually telling an untruth.

Republican sympathizers are seeking to make the public believe that business is bad, is getting worse. Democratic backers are trying to persuade it that business is recovering, that definite improvement is taking place all the time. The truth, as is so often the case, lies between these extremes of opinion. Business is still suffering from the summer decline, but in some fields production is above what the normal seasonal expectancy would have led us to expect. Prices for many commodities seem fairly steady—those of agriculture, due to drought, well up, and rising. Basic heavy industries—namely steel and lumber, are at very low ebb, however.

Mainly in the forefront is still labor trouble. By the time this is read, some 500,000 textile workers may have walked out, paralyzing the industry. Whether they do or not, is not especially important so far as the long view is concerned—the fact to be kept in mind is that labor has been made dissatisfied and forces are at work to keep trouble brewing in a campaign to unionize industry 100 per cent. The appeal made to labor is that if it loses now, its cause will be set back a century. On the other hand, conservative leaders believe radicalism and strikes will shake public confidence in organized labor at this time—that mediation is better than force.

Of obvious interest to business are the state primaries, which so far have demonstrated very little. Most Democratic nominees are enthusiastic New Deal men—most Republican candidates and equally in opposition. The President has let it be known that he will not give direct support to any candidate, and that came as a blow to many a political hopeful. Mr. Roosevelt is wisely refraining from following the example of the tragic Wilson who asked the country to return Democratic majorities to House and Senate, was refused by the electorate, and was completely discredited in his leadership. Many current Democratic candidates will insinuate that the President won't be able to sleep nights until they are safely elected. But that won't mean anything.

Safety Council Offers Key To Types of Driving in Book

tal image of a formidable array of technical bug-bears, will find solace in this outline of the seven basic facts which an examination should establish. Practically and without a touch of terrorism, they line up:

1. Does he (the driver) know the road rules and understand safe driving practices?
2. Can he tell what road signs mean?
3. Is his body sound enough and strong enough to handle the car well?
4. How good is his eyesight?
5. Is he deaf or hard of hearing?
6. Is he old enough to be allowed to drive?
7. Just how well has he learned to handle the car?

In the driving test presented by the manual, the stanzas roughly are these: At the start, the driver tries hand and foot brakes. Then, as he proceeds, the examiner watches his reactions to signs: Does he see and does he heed them? How does he behave on a hill? Is he a backslider? Can he stop and start on a hill without trundling backward? Does he salute a stop light by blandly ignoring it? How skillfully can he maneuver his car in reverse for 50 feet? Does he give a corner a tailored cut or does he skirt it with a sweeping hem? What sort of turn does he make, backing between curbs? Is parking between two cars does he juggle or does he slip into the space easily?

Lo! The Trumpeter!

Some other matters also come under the scrutiny of the official. The motorist who uses his horn in the traditional English fox-horn fashion, it would seem, is to receive an official gaze askance, for one of the points to be checked is, "Uses horn too much." Similarly, riding the clutch while driving and failing to keep in the right lane may invite a glance down the nose, among other things.

that operates at extremely low cost

See the "Companion" Electric Range

A companion to the G-E "Liftop" refrigerator is the new G-E electric range—one of the simplest, most compact ranges ever built. See it on display at your Public Service Store. You'll be delighted with the many features of this range which is priced at only $76.00. When bought in combination with the "Liftop" a special, reduced price applies. Ask about this offer.

For only ONE NICKEL

Five cents—the cost of a package of gum—will operate a washing machine, a vacuum cleaner, a percolator, an electric iron, a toaster, a waffle iron—all at one time—for one solid hour at the new 2c per kilowatt-hour portion of the electric rate. In effect after 17 kilowatt-hours per room have been used in the month. Other useful electrical devices also cost but a few pennies to operate. Take advantage of the new low rates—think what comfort, what convenience the use of these saving appliances will bring to your home.

THE General Electric "Liftop"—the latest triumph of research and engineering—brings the economy and convenience of electric refrigeration within the reach of the most modest income.

The G-E "Liftop" operates at a cost surprisingly low. It is powered with the famed G-E "sealed-in-steel" mechanism, has the same refrigeration principle as the world renowned G-E Monitor Top models. It operates so quietly you can scarcely hear it. It needs no attention—no oiling.

The "Liftop" is all steel, with one-piece stainless porcelain interior, glistening white Glyptal-baked enamel exterior. Equipped with sliding food rack and food basket. Two ice or dessert freezing trays. Will freeze 20 cubes—2 pounds of ice—at one time. The "Liftop" is compact, but storage capacity has not been sacrificed for the sake of compactness, as an inspection of the big, roomy interior will convince you.

See this revolutionary new-type refrigerator at your nearest Public Service Store. Ask about our easy payment plan which puts the "Liftop" in your home for only a small down payment, the balance monthly, the "little-by-little" way, on your Electric Service bill.

To cover interest and other costs, a somewhat higher price is charged for appliances sold on deferred payments.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mind" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 26. The Golden Text was, "Who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever" (Romans 11:34, 35).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations" (Psalms 33:11).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The First Commandment is my favorite text. It demonstrates Christian Science. It inculcates the truth of God, Spirit, Mind. It signifies that man shall have no other spirit or mind but God, eternal good, and that all men shall have one Mind" (p. 340).

After a Lapse of 50 Years

By Mary Story Howard

With no prospect of soon crossing, and men impatient to get their families out of the crowd, the Honeys, my father and I, think, someone else, made a raft just wide enough for one wagon and long enough for two, held together with wooden pins at either side. On the morning of May 24th, at four o'clock, our wagon was run down a steep bank, across the mud and onto the raft. Three little sleeping brothers were put into it. The tongue, of necessity, hung full half its length in the water, for the wheels were tight against the log holding the raft together. Mother and I stood one on each side of the tongue and between the wheels to protect the little ones, the older brother being left to help care for the teams. How this little craft was guided or managed to make a landing, I have no more knowledge than someone far distant, and I think it must have seemed such a frightful undertaking to the poor little girl that it blotted out all else. We landed two miles down stream, there being no nearer landings, for it was such an angry stream that the high bluffs on the west bank made it impossible to cross it direct. So our poor makeshift was in luck to make the other shore, even in two miles. It was muddy where we landed, and hard work was required to get the wagons on to anything like firm ground. I have no idea of the manner of getting that raft back to the starting place for use by others, but brother and the oxen came over on it, and father went back and forth several times helping others. Mrs. Honeys crossed with us in one of their wagons; they had no children with them, having left four in Brighton.

Trip Hard on Animals

When this river was crossed, we were in a big no-man's-land, with no sign of habitation; sometimes we saw Indians, as we were then passing through the Pawnee Nation. They were friendly, and made no trouble that I remember. I do recall, however, that where father purchased supplies east of the river, he bought a black cow, thinking there would be food for it, and the milk would be so good for the children, but I believe that cow was the greatest disappointment of the whole trip. When they tried to milk her, they found they had a hard job, for she would kick and throw her head around, and they had to tie her hind feet to the hind wheel and her fore feet to the fore wheels, while father held her up and mother milked her the best she could. You may be sure, she caused many angry words, and for all the milk we got we paid dear. Each one of us learned to hate that old black cow; I know I have never gotten over it.

Of the desert, and the many weary days until we reached Fort Laramie, I remember little except that the poor oxen got footsore traveling through hot sand filled with long beads of the dry cactus. The green cacti are bad, but the old dry ones, mixed into the sand, are like so many needles and even worked through the oxen's improvised shoes. Pieces of the hide of some dead beast (of which there were many), or circular shape with strings of the same source, were tied on to keep their poor feet from the sand and give them a chance to heal if they would; but these made it extra hard for them to travel this way; little wonder they soon gave out.

I have not mentioned our dog as yet. We brought him from our home, and his name was Tiger. He, too, had to have his poor feet tied up this way, and seemed to take it as a matter of course, never complaining. He knew when Indians were near, and if they came close, we children, in fear, got near together, and Tiger would be in front of us, showing his teeth as though he realized the responsibility of his position. He lived to be fourteen years old, but was very lame and helpless, having walked the entire distance. We were all nearly heart-broken at his death, in Sutter Creek, California, in 1884.

We were always expecting to meet Indians, some of whom were friendly and would take salt in exchange for fish, having no use for money, of course; others were very surly and independent, and no doubt would have made trouble for us had there been fewer in our party. The emigrants, as a usual thing, formed companies, and traveled that way for protection. Although we never joined one of these companies, we were never alone, as the emigration became very heavy after we had traveled but a short distance on the trail.

Meat is plentiful. So much sickness, mostly cholera, made our way seem blind on both sides with graves of the unfortunate. There might have been some consolation for those left to travel on, if they could have felt sure their loved ones were undisturbed in the shallow places, they were forced to leave them in. But there was evidence in plenty, that such could not be, for no matter how hard they tried to cover the dead with stones, where they could be gotten, or pieces of wagon wheels and boxes, they were brought to the surface by coyotes. These sneaking beasts, as soon as darkness came, would set up their dismal, nerve-destroying howl. Sometimes we came to the little prairie dog villages, and although they are very spry animals we managed to lengthen out many a meal at their expense. We had no gun but there were plenty of fire-arms in the train, so that some of the younger men, when in sight of a herd of buffalo would follow on. Sometimes luck befell them, and they brought meat back; sometimes it was a deer, or bear, and I recall they are all good meat when one is hungry. We always had a share, for people under those circumstances are willing to divide the work and the meat. I will remember one day in the Black Hills, brother Jerome and I being a little in advance of our wagon, found a bear's head just as it had been cut from the body, with the hide still on. Perhaps that would not have seemed so desirable under other conditions, but it looked good to us, so we made sure of it and it made the family a good meal. At that time we were able to get wood enough to cook with, for the hills were covered with a shrub cedar that looked a dusty black but burned fine. As a usual thing we had to depend on buffalo chips, and sometimes they were so scarce we had to begin gathering them long before we came to a camping place.

This Sign Is For Your PROTECTION

You will see it in the receiving windows at the First National Bank of Antioch.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation says:

"The purpose of the signs is to let depositors know which banks are insured. Heretofore, although 90 per cent of the licensed banks are insured, depositors have had no easy means of identifying them.

"If, by any unforeseen circumstance, an insured bank should suspend, the Insurance Corporation would begin paying off the depositors just as soon as a receiver was appointed for the closed institution. The depositors would receive their money in a few days instead of waiting months or years as was the case in the former method of liquidation. This is not only a benefit to the depositors, but it saves the community from a terrific economic and social blow. When the depositors receive their insured accounts they assign their claims to the Insurance Corporation. Thereafter liquidation proceeds on a business-like basis with the maximum chance of the Corporation and other creditors being paid in full."

Light Diet and Exercises Do Wonders Toward Attaining "Ideal"

Now is an excellent season of the year to make that resolution to keep the figure controlled. With tomatoes, peaches and other fresh fruits and vegetables plentiful in gardens or markets, it is easy to keep "lilled up" without a large calorie consumption. After these first few extra pounds have been lost through change in diet, one may begin to think about whipping her figure into proportionate shape through exercises.

You can be yourself as long as you are well proportioned. Begin with the height of the figure in stocking feet. From the height determine what the bust measurements should be.

For five feet in height: 30 inch bust measurement.

For five feet one inch: 31 inch bust measurement.

For five feet two inches: 32 inch bust measurement.

And so on. The bust measure exceeds 30 inches by the same number of inches that the height exceeds five feet. To determine the waist measurement from your ideal bust measurements (according to height as shown in the above table) subtract eight inches. To determine the hip measurement add two inches to the bust measurement.

Hips being the popular offenders against these proportionate measurements, a few exercises which will be found helpful are given below:

Lie flat on your back. Raise the right leg, cross it over the left and stretch it. Roll over on your hips and repeat with the left leg. Try to keep shoulders stationary. Do this ten times morning and night.

Support the body on hands and toes, rise up and down. It's not an easy exercise, so go carefully the first few times.

Chin wood. Begin with hands high overhead, knees straight. Swing at the waist and down one side, then down on the other side.

Lie on the back with arms fully extended to the rear of the head. Rise to a sitting position smartly. Touch hands to toes, stretch to the back and shoulders. Return to original position slowly.

Lie face downward, arms extended to the front. Raise and lower the right leg, extended, then the left. Alternate with extended legs.

Lie on your back, arms by your sides. Raise the right leg, extended, and lower slowly. Same with the left leg. Alternate the right and left leg. Raise both legs. Be sure to lower the legs slowly.

Wire Cutters Furnish Evenly Sliced Cheese

Do you envy the grocer the thin, smooth slices of cheese he produces? It's simply done with a new cutter made up of thin wires. Small sliced cutters of the same variety may be purchased by the housewife. The handles come in a wide range of colors and it's said to cut equally smooth slices of ice box cookie dough.

Harlequin Sandwich. From a large loaf of bread cut slices about 1/2 inch thick. Allow one slice per person. Remove crusts. Spread with mayonnaise. Divide each slice into thirds "by eye," do not cut. In the center section arrange slices of hard boiled eggs, pressing well into the dressing. Spread one end section generously with chopped ham and garnish with sliced pickles. Spread third section with softened and seasoned cheese and press stuffed olives into it. Serve with cold salad or tomatoes on lettuce leaf.

Variations: minced chicken salad cottage cheese, currant jelly. Or liver, paste, cucumber spread, chopped egg salad. Or salmon or sardine paste, sliced eggs, pickle relish; or chopped shrimp, sliced pineapple, cream cheese. For children: sliced banana, peanut butter, jelly, shredded carrot salad.

Clever Coats for Autumn Charming on Larger Woman

by Mme. LANE BRYANT
Noted Fashion Counselor

NEW YORK—Fall is in the air—the fall of lovely smart coats rather than of dying leaves. For this is the month in which New York fashion stylists bring out their new creations for crisp autumn.

The larger woman should have no difficulty this season in choosing her coat. Both fur-trimmed and plain models display these little saving graces that make a size 46 look like 42.

Chests have a broad look, and hips a narrow one, as should be. The new sleeves are full at the upper arm, for ease, and taper off gracefully at the wrist for slenderness. Clever panels in the back, and graceful seams that lead the eye away from the hip, do their share in making the short woman look tall and slender.

Cloths, too, have that slenderizing look. Dark crepe for dress coats promises to be a season favorite. Its vertical, tree-like markings emphasize height. And tweeds, for all-round coats, come in reliable herringbone patterns, or subdued flecked designs, which are always right for the larger woman.

can be had now at a very moderate price in wool monotone crepe, silk-flored, in black or dark brown. It has a flattering collar of dark akunk, and the all-important tapering sleeves. The back is shaped with slenderizing panels, and the coat may be worn with a belt, or without one by the woman who needs added inches to her height.

The second coat illustrated is an all purpose-coat, in herringbone tweed. The skirt is adaptable, and can be worn over one shoulder, as a fashion, or loose and open—three ways to suit three moods.

Practical shades that have little chance of being left behind in the march of fashion dominate the autumn color chart. These include black-and-white, and brown or gray mixtures for tweeds, and black and dark brown for unpatterned materials.

If you would like to know more about these coats, or if you have fashion difficulties which this article does not answer, I will be happy to help you any way I can. Write me: Mme. Lane Bryant, Fashion Bureau, 5 East 45th St., New York City.

The Brave Can Forgive

The brave only know how to forgive; it is the most refined and generous pitch of virtue human nature can arrive at. Cowards have done good and kind actions; cowards have even fought, nay sometimes even conquered; but a coward never forgave; it is not in his nature. —Steele

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Counselor, Physiatrist, and Health Educator
New York State Department of Public Instruction

A Code for Child Health

While the industrial codes we read about may come and go, the code for child health will always be a regulator of successful parenthood. Let us review the elements out of which such a code should be made.

I believe most parents would list first the quart of milk daily, taken in different forms; two or more vegetables, with at least one the green leafy variety daily; some fresh fruit; meat, fish and eggs; and bread and butter.

The amount of sleep is important; restful, quiet sleep. The young child should have an afternoon rest in addition. Fresh air and sunshine must be in the health budget in liberal allotments. And the diminished sunshine of winter calls for one of the fish liver oils as a regular item in the code.

Be sure that the child's right to playtime is honored. Let nothing interfere with this natural heritage. Permit some time every day when the child may do as he pleases. Consider seriously the annual health examination by your family physician and dentist. Insure against smallpox and diphtheria. There are the routine daily health habits such as cleanliness and elimination to be added to the code. Finally do everything possible to bring happiness to the child and to make him feel secure and safe. Give him companionship; laugh with him; encourage his confidences.

Next week Dr. Ireland will write about Health Protection.

Old Woman in Shoe and Her Family Here Again

A sweet toy for the young child who has measles or mumps or just rainy day blues is a cunning little leather shoe about six inches high that belongs undoubtedly to the old woman of the nursery rhyme, the one who had so many children she didn't know what to do.

The shoe is chock full of baby dolls, and perched on the top of the doll pile is the old woman herself, looking just the right bit bothered by her troubles.

Fair-mindedness

The expression, "an open mind" refers to the state of mind when one can view a thing dispassionately and, even if he has convictions on one side of the question, can still feel that the other side may be right and he may be wrong. It might be referred to as a "just" or "fair" state of mind.

Mr. Harvey J. Firestone, Chairman, Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio

Dear Mr. Firestone: Under A.S.A. supervision, I have just completed a 3,000-mile run on the hot salt desert at Lake Bonneville, Utah, averaging 127.2 miles per hour, breaking 77 speed records—without any tire trouble. Firestone Tires gave me almost unbelievable performance, with temperatures as high as 120 degrees.

Last year I made a similar run with a car of less power and speed using tires of another make whose national advertising featured blowout protection. Yet, I had a blowout and made a number of tire changes.

This year I also used Firestone Spark Plugs and a Firestone Extra Power Battery with my new 1934 Buick Sedan. Not a spark plug failed and the battery required no service of any kind.

If every car owner knew what my Firestone Tires went through they would appreciate what blowout protection means in strength and heat protection. That's why I have never had a blowout. This is the toughest run I have ever made in my 23 years of breaking speed records.

Sincerely yours, Walter Shaw, using widely advertised Firestone tires, had eleven tire failures, mostly of the rear tires, in his driving.

Londos to Train at Round Lake For Title Bout With "Strangler"

WHITE PLANS LONDOS VS. LEWIS CAMPS IN BIG MAT CARD

Arrangements have been completed by Ed White, manager of Jim Londos, to have Itenehan's Lodge at Round Lake converted into a training camp in which the world's champion will live for at least a week with his staff of trainers to prepare himself for the greatest test of his career, a defense of his crown against Ed "Strangler" Lewis in Wrigley Field, Chicago, September 20th.

Londos will move into his new quarters and open his training grind Monday, Sept. 3rd, Labor Day. The camp will be open each afternoon to the public where he will train in and out of the ring from 2 to 5 p. m.

This will be the second big time training camp of this type in Lake County as many local people will remember Gene Tunney's camp at Cedarhurst when the ex-marine trained for his Chicago match with Jack Dempsey. Thousands attended the training sessions there and great crowds are expected to come to Round Lake to watch Londos go through the paces for his big match.

Lon Plummer and Sol Slagle will be in the Londos camp to help round the champion into condition.

"Ladies Should Listen," Premiere Showing at Opening of Gateway

One of this season's surprises of the screen is Paramount's "Ladies Should Listen," which opens Saturday at the Gateway Theatre, Kenosha, in which Cary Grant reveals a new facet of his versatility.

This bubbling Continental comedy gives Cary Grant a chance to display his abilities to the fullest extent as a competent farceur.

The story is one of complicated situations in which a young Parisian man-about-town finds himself with an option on a nitrate concession on his hands plus one of his many sweethearts who, with her husband, is trying to rob him of the concession.

The clever dialogue and screen play are credited to Claude Mignon and Frank Butler who adapted it from the original by Alfred Savoir and Guy Bolton.
